Program Description: Sea Turtle Conservancy at the Barrier Island Center on the Archie Carr Refuge is inviting applicants to join the STCAA program for 11-18-year-old students interested in environmental issues that will train students in the skills necessary to make real change in their communities through advocacy and stewardship. This is a school year program with required monthly in-person meetings Saturdays from 10 am to noon. Additional bimonthly meetings will be scheduled as needed that will be organized during times the majority of the STCAA students are available. Likely meeting times will be after school, evenings and weekends. Some of the meetings will be in-person and some will be on Zoom so we can engage a broader range of mentors. Students will learn about the issues facing sea turtles and their habitats, select an issue to address, design a project, and make a request for change with the goal of improving sea turtle survival and habitat quality. The program will use the impactful UF IFAS Community Action Projects for the Environment (CAPE) model. Read more about CAPE here: <https://programs.ifas.ufl.edu/cape/>.

Ten STCAA students will receive a $300 stipend if they successfully complete the program and make a request for change in the community. The program runs from October through May. The in-person meetings will be at the Barrier Island Center, 8385 S. Highway A1A, Melbourne Beach, FL, 32951.
